

Fashion & Textiles: Enrichment Activities

There are numerous fashion and textiles shows and series which give a fascinating insight into the fashion industry.

Have you watched 'Wonder Boy' on Netflix, a revealing documentary which follows the Balmain creative director Olivier Rousteing. 'Next in Fashion' or 'Project Runway' and 'The Great British Sewing Bee' are also a great insight into meeting design briefs and designers creations. Have a search for these and watch some of these shows. Look at the video below for inspiration on other shows that you can watch which will develop and enhance your knowledge of the fashion industry which you will then study as part of our A Level course.

Even if you don't have Netflix to watch some of these series, there are lots of free shows to watch, some of which are on the following slides. I would recommend you watch a number of these before September.

A woman with short blonde hair and glasses is looking up at a man in a dark suit. They are in a room filled with sewing supplies, including shelves of fabric, spools of thread, and a window in the background. A pink play button icon is visible on the left side of the image.

The Great British Sewing Bee

Series 8: Episode 4

Scraps are put to use in Reduce, Reuse, Recycle week to create quilted patchwork jackets. Old coats are given a new lease of life, and second-hand duvets become maxi dresses. More ▼
